So, do you have your ark built? Mother Nature has really been tempermental this spring! Home repairs and cleanup have become major jobs after the tornado, but thankfully no one was seriously injured. Let's hold positive thoughts that all the rain will lead to plenty of sunshine which will give way to bountiful gardens for us all.

Mother Nature threw all varieties of weather at our spring trips. In February on the Caribbean by Coach trip the cold and snow followed us from home all the way to Mississippi. But once we were in the beautiful Western Caribbean there was plenty of sunshine and warmth. Many of us visited the Mayan Ruins at Uxmal and a few brave ones climbed to the top of The Great Pyramid. The pyramid is 98 feet high and the steps are only 6 inches wide - climbing was a difficult, scary task. But the breathtaking view was worth the challenge.

The Smokey Mountains Show trip started and ended with rain. But what a spectacular day we had in the National Park! We traveled up the Newfound Gap to an elevation of 5,000 ft. It was about 40 degrees and the trees were covered with hoar frost, which is ice formed from the fog. The trees glistened in the sunshine! A variety of shows, sunny free time in Gatlinburg and a camel ride (yes, camel ride) made this a great trip.

Behind the Scenes day trip had a fun stop at the Alton FD.

If you're interested in the Mackinac, Montana or Hawaii trips please call me to check availability.

IMPORTANT NOTE! Due to scheduling changes I will no longer be based in one office. Therefore it is very important that you always leave a voice message so I can return your call in a timely manner. E-mail is the easiest way to reach me. All my contact information will remain the same and it is listed on the reservation page.

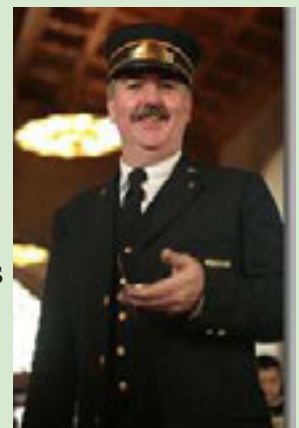

I look forward to seeing you on a Journey very soon.

Eagle Bank Supports Local Fire Departments with Life-Saving Donation

To celebrate its 100th anniversary, Eagle Bank and Trust Company of Missouri donated life-saving devices to 12 area fire departments. Each station received a state-of-art thermal imager for search and rescue efforts in the field. These life-saving devices are crucial for the fire department, protecting firefighters as they navigate structural fires and execute search and rescue attempts.

“We are excited to support our local communities by investing in their safety and the safety of those firefighters who work so tirelessly to protect them,” says Mike Walsh, President and CEO of Eagle Bank and Trust. “With this donation, we’re celebrating the bank’s anniversary while giving back to the communities we serve.”

America’s fire death rate is one of the highest per capita in the industrialized world with one civilian fire death occurring nearly every three hours. According to the U.S. Fire Administration, fires kill approximately 3,500 people, including nearly 100 firefighters each year. Missouri has been ranked as the tenth deadliest state with an average of 120 fire deaths annually. However, most of these deaths can be prevented. The use of thermal imagers is one way firefighters can better protect themselves while saving lives.

In addition to donating the thermal imagers, Eagle Bank is promoting an online donation program - ‘Eagle Bank Saving Lives’ - which is founded to benefit the Missouri Children’s Burn Camp. Sponsored by the Burns Recovered Support Group, Inc., this free annual week-long program offers a unique summer camp experience for children ages 6-17, who have sustained severe burn injuries. At Missouri Children’s Burn Camp, emphasis is placed on the person on the inside, not the scars on the outside.

For more information about Eagle Bank’s thermal imager donation or to make a donation to support the Missouri Children’s Burn Camp, please visit www.eaglebanksavinglives.com
