

A Day in the Garden

October 14th

$38 / $48

Missouri Botanical Gardens is Celebrating its 150th Anniversary
Enjoy strolling through gardens and special exhibits at your own pace

The Floral Clock - a 20-foot-diameter working clock created entirely of plant material in honor of the institution's 150th anniversary. Don't miss the cuckoo bird popping from his home every quarter-hour!

EarthWays Living the Green Life Exhibit - learn about sustainable living from booths showcasing goods, services and information with an environmental edge.

Losing Paradise? Endangered Plants Here and Around the World - an exhibition of original artworks and illustrations by the American Society of Botanical Artists.

QARP "Celebration of Life" - over 50 exhibitors of senior services and products, featuring health screenings, attendance prizes, awards and entertainment.

Tour the Tower Grove House - take a step back in time and experience the country home of Henry Shaw. View artifacts and furniture that belonged to Mr. Shaw. Entry is included with garden admission. Guided tours are available at 10:30 & 1:30.

Lunch is on your own at the Terrace Café or Sassafras Restaurant 11:00 - 3:00. Narrated tram rides are available for $3 and run every hour. A stop at Ted Drew's ends the day on a sweet note!
