Celebrity chef Mario Batali calls The Hill one of the top “Little Italy” neighborhoods in the country and praises the area’s exquisite northern Italian cuisine. Saveur magazine says The Hill is a must-stop on a culinary tour through St. Louis. Called “the most pleasantly fragrant neighborhood in St. Louis” by Midwest Living magazine, The Hill’s great Italian restaurants, bakeries and import stores make it one of the region’s great ethnic neighborhoods.

Our favorite Hill-Native guide, Joe DeGregorio, will lead us on a culinary tour through St. Louis’ Hill neighborhood. We will have instructions on cooking Toasted Ravioli, taste salami and prosciutto at Volipi’s, watch sausage making at DiGregorio’s followed by samples, walk through Vitalie’s bakery and enjoy a sweet treat. In his own unique way, Joe will provide lectures on the Lombard and Sicilian styles of cooking plus stories and specialties of The Hill’s restaurants.

Enjoy a wonderful lunch at a popular Hill restaurant.

And for something different...we’ll tour a new soap factory that makes herb-infused soaps.
